Twitter is heating up, and people are finding new ways of tweeting and being the recipient of tweets.

TweetMyJobs.com (<http://www.TweetMyJOBS.com>) is one of the latest tweet twists. It's a new service that brings hiring companies and job seekers together on Twitter. The site has established Twitter channels for major cities and job types, in an easy-to-use interface.

You simply create accounts on Twitter and on TweetMyJobs.com, and job openings will be texted to your cell phone. If you don't have a cell phone or texting capabilities, you can still see your listings at the site.
